LIU STATEMENT ON ANNIVERSARY OF ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

NEW YORK, N.Y. — City Comptroller John C. Liu made the following statement today on the 50th anniversary of President John F. Kennedy’s assassination:

“Fifty years after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated we still mourn the loss of his unfulfilled vision, but we celebrate the legacy he left us. He challenged America to be better by calling on us not just to serve our country, but to serve humanity. President Kennedy embodied the hopes and dreams of immigrants who came to this country in search of a better life. My parents were among the millions who took his message into their hearts. They were so inspired by his example that they named me and my brothers, Robert and Edward, after President Kennedy and his brothers. We honor him today and strive to keep his energy and vision alive in our hearts and actions.”
