LIU STATEMENT ON THANKSGIVING

NEW YORK, N.Y. — City Comptroller John C. Liu issued the following statement in advance of Thanksgiving tomorrow:

“On Thanksgiving we take time to appreciate our family, our friends, and the many blessings in our lives. We also give thanks for the men and women whose service to our City and our country keeps us safe. But as we enjoy Thanksgiving, surrounded by the warmth of our loved ones, let’s keep those who are less fortunate in our hearts and in our deeds. Tens of thousands of men, women, and children sleep in our City’s homeless shelters every night. Thousands of New Yorkers are still recovering from the wreckage left by Superstorm Sandy one year ago. As we give thanks for all of the good things in our own lives, let’s also take time to bring something good into the lives of others. On behalf of my family, I wish you all a Happy Thanksgiving.”
