STATEMENT FROM COMPTROLLER SCOTT M. STRINGER ON THE PASSING OF JOHN ZUCCOTTI

Today, all of New York City is saddened to hear of the passing of John Zuccotti. Over decades of service in both government and the private sector, John worked with compassion and conviction to help make our City and our society a better place for all. He was a voice of reason when New York City was on the brink of financial collapse in the 1970s, and a driving force for rebuilding in the aftermath of September 11th. He will be missed.
