Claims Report:

Fiscal Year 2016

THE CITY OF NEW YORK
OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER

SCOTT M. STRINGER
COMPTROLLER

February 10, 2017

Dear Fellow New Yorkers:

I am pleased to share with you the New York City Comptroller's Office Claims Report for fiscal year (FY) 2016, covering July 1, 2015 through June 30, 2016. This report, the third in my administration, evaluates claims filed against the City of New York, outlining claim trends by type across City agencies. In FY 2016, personal injury and property damage (tort claims) settlements cost the City $629.5 million, nearly a seven percent increase from the $588.8 million paid in FY 2015. The City settled other non-tort claims for a total of $380.9 million, representing a three percent increase from FY 2015, when settlements totaled $371.4 million.

But there are some bright spots. FY 2016 saw a decline in claims filed against City agencies, such as Department of Transportation, Department of Sanitation (DSNY), NYC Health + Hospitals, and Department of Environmental Protection. And between FY 2015 and FY 2016, the number of claims filed against the New York Police Department (NYPD) dropped by 10 percent. This reduction in the number of claims filed against the NYPD is remarkable, especially in light of the fact that we saw a similar decline in the number of claims filed from FY 2014 to FY 2015.

Although the number of claims filed against the NYPD declined in FY 2016, claims against the NYPD cost the City $279.7 million, the highest in City history. This settlements and judgments total reflects the prolonged time between the filing of claims and concluding complex legal actions from more than a decade ago, involving policies years in the making. This report will highlight the small number of cases that account for a substantial percentage of $279.7 million figure.

With these risks in mind, during FY 2016, my office continued our policy of settling significant civil rights claims before litigation to avoid lengthy proceedings that are costly for the City and claimants alike. We settled civil rights claims redressing the wrongful convictions of Roger Logan and Shabaka Shakur. In addition, my office settled pre-litigation the wrongful death claim filed by the estate of Eric Garner. When it is prudent to do so, we will continue to evaluate and resolve meritorious claims pre-litigation to provide closure to claimants sooner and enable the City to better leverage its litigation and trial counsel resources.

This report should serve as a road map for all City agencies so that they may perform their own risk analysis in order to reduce claim costs. We will continue to work with City agencies to reduce the costs related to claims and lawsuits against the City. And my administration has also developed and deployed data-driven tools, including ClaimStat, to reduce future claims costs. We will continue to work closely with the NYPD to share data to mitigate risks posed to the City and its residents and visitors, and I am pleased to announce that we have entered into an operating agreement with the DSNY to expand ClaimStat. We welcome such partnerships with other City agencies so that we can further expand the use of data-driven processes to weed out meritless claims while efficiently resolving claims that expose the City to liability. In the long-term, utilization of technology and efficient coordination with other City agencies should result in a continued decline in the number of claims filed, and a safer and more effective City.

Savings from reduced settlements and costs could shift money toward much needed critical City services to provide affordable housing, to further fund education, to improve infrastructure, and to make the City a better place for all New Yorkers.

Sincerely,

I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Under the New York City Charter, the Comptroller has the power to settle and adjust all claims in favor of or against the City.<sup>1</sup> This work is performed by the Comptroller's Office Bureau of Law and Adjustment (BLA), composed of attorneys, claims professionals, and administrative staff under the direction of the Comptroller, General Counsel, and the Assistant Comptroller for BLA.

In FY 2016, BLA adjusted or settled 14,643 claims that ultimately resulted in authorizing total City outlays of more than $1 billion.<sup>2</sup>

For FY 2016, the City paid out $629.5 million in tort claim settlements and judgments—nearly seven percent more than the $588.8 million paid out in FY 2015.<sup>3</sup> These tort claims ranged from slip/trip and fall to medical malpractice, police action, and motor vehicle property damage claims.

In FY 2016, the City paid out $380.9 million in non-tort claims, or “law claims,” a three percent increase from the $371.4 million paid out in FY 2015. These law claims include disputes arising from City contracts, equitable claims, refund claims, City employee salary disputes, claims involving Department of Education special education matters, sidewalk assessments, cleanup costs levied on property owners who are in violation of the Mental Hygiene Law, and affirmative claims brought on behalf of the City.

In FY 2016, the City paid out $40.7 million for legacy claims that occurred before FY 2007, which includes $13.5 million paid out for multiple claims against the NYPD stemming from murders that occurred during the 1980s and 1990s, known as the “Mafia Cops” cases.

Finally, this report also includes a look-back to FY 2007 to provide a broader perspective on claim filings and settlements and judgments in order to contextualize the FY 2016 numbers.

II. OVERVIEW OF THE COMPTROLLER'S INITIATIVES TO MANAGE RISK AND IMPLEMENT BEST PRACTICES

ClaimStat Update and Inter-Agency Partnerships

In an effort to drive down the cost of claims, in 2014, during the first year of Comptroller Stringer's administration, the Comptroller's Office launched ClaimStat, a data-driven analysis of claims against the City. ClaimStat was introduced to help agencies reduce claims by providing data that identifies practices that lead to costly settlements and judgments against the City. Using ClaimStat data, the Comptroller's Office has released agency-related updates concerning claims, including filing trends and resolved claim payouts. In addition, the Comptroller's Office has partnered with several City agencies in order to share relevant claims data to help agencies better manage risk, implement agency best practices, and efficiently allocate City resources.

The Comptroller's Office initially partnered with the NYPD to exchange real-time data to identify claim trends as early as possible. The partnership allows the Comptroller's Office to make an early assessment of the City's exposure to certain types of claims and enables the NYPD to consider policies that may address or reverse trends that lead to increased exposure for the City. In 2015, the Comptroller's Office expanded its partnership program to the Department of Citywide Administrative Services (DCAS) and the Department of Transportation (DOT). In 2016, the Comptroller's Office partnered with the Department of Environmental (DEP) to exchange data for flood claims to be used for a DEP long-term flooding study. In 2017, the Comptroller's Office further broadened its partnerships and entered into an operating agreement with the Department of Sanitation (DSNY) to expand ClaimStat. The current cooperation and sharing of data between the Comptroller's Office and City agencies is unprecedented, and the Comptroller's Office is continually working to expand coordinated efforts to mitigate risk and to implement best practices.

Recovery Program Update

The Comptroller's Office partners with the Human Resources Administration—particularly with the Office of Child Support Enforcement (OCSE)—to collect reimbursements for public assistance and Medicaid benefits, as well as child support obligations, from claimants who received settlement payouts from the City. The Comptroller's Office and the OCSE successfully automated the process to ensure that outstanding payments are processed and collected properly. The Comptroller's Office also works with the New York City Department of Finance to collect on liens, including unpaid parking tickets, against claimants who reach a settlement with the City. In FY 2016, BLA collected $7.3 million from claimants with outstanding obligations to the City or with child support orders in arrears.

Damage to the City (Pre-Litigation)

The Comptroller's Office initiates affirmative claims to collect money from individuals who have damaged City property. Most of these claims involve damage to City-owned motor vehicles and City infrastructure. BLA's efforts in asserting these claims on behalf of the City resulted in the collection of $1.7 million in FY 2016.

Son of Sam Law (New York State Executive Law § 632-a)

The New York State Son of Sam Law permits a crime victim to commence a civil action to recover money damages for “profits from a crime” or the “funds of a convicted person.”<sup>4</sup> Under the law, the Comptroller's Office must report to the New York State Office of Victim Services (Victim Services) any City settlement obligation to a convicted person that exceeds $10,000. BLA automated its process to identify claims that should be reported and works closely with Victim Services and the New York State Attorney General’s Office to help identify funds in excess of $10,000 awarded to convicted persons from whom victims can recover money. At the close of FY 2016, the City has paid an aggregate $286,000 to crime victims who recovered from claim settlements under the Son of Sam Law.

III. LEGACY CLAIMS

Payments for Personal Injury Tort Claims that Occurred Before 2007

New Yorkers continue to pay for claims that were filed more than a decade ago. In FY 2016, the City paid out $40.7 million for claims that occurred prior to FY 2007, including $13.5 million in payouts stemming from the “Mafia Cops” claims<sup>5</sup> against the NYPD.

In FY 2014, the Comptroller’s Office began to analyze the cost of settlements stemming from protracted litigation. As noted in previous Claims Reports, aggressive litigation is necessary to protect the City fisc from meritless claims. However, in certain instances, prolonged and drawn out litigation—which after years becomes what we call a “legacy claim”—has not been the most effective use of the City’s resources and has even increased the City’s exposure to unreasonable verdicts and judgments. In the best interest of the City, the Comptroller's Office and Office of the Corporation Counsel must remain vigilant in constantly striking the difficult balance of vigorously defending the City and avoiding imprudent or unnecessary litigation. When appropriate, the Comptroller's Office will continue to settle meritorious claims in their early stages, driving down future settlement and judgment costs, to the benefit of the City. Simultaneously, the Comptroller's Office will continue working with law enforcement to root out fraudulent claims and with Office of the Corporation Counsel to vigorously defend against meritless claims.

IV. TORT CLAIMS

Tort claims consist of personal injury and property damage claims. While the number of tort claims filed in FY 2016 decreased, the amount paid out on settled tort claims in FY 2016 increased.<sup>6</sup> In FY 2016, 26,800 new personal injury and property damage claims were filed—a two percent decrease from the 27,362 tort claims filed in FY 2015.<sup>7</sup>

Chart 2
Number and Percentage of Tort Claims Filed by Category
FY 2016

In FY 2016, settlement of tort claims cost the City $629.5 million, nearly a seven percent increase from the $588.8 million paid out by the City in FY 2015. Claim settlements and judgments for personal injury and property damage cost each City resident approximately $73.63 in FY 2016.

A. PERSONAL INJURY CLAIMS

Personal injury claims are the most frequently filed and the most costly to resolve. Such claims include, but are not limited to, allegations of medical malpractice, civil rights violations, injuries occurring in Department of Education (DOE) schools, motor vehicle accidents involving City-owned vehicles, as well as claims arising from allegedly defective sidewalks, or the actions of police or uniformed services employees. In FY 2016, personal injury claims accounted for $620.1 million, or 99 percent, of the $629.5 million paid out on settled tort claims. The average settlements and judgments cost for all personal injury cases in FY 2016 was $84,428, four percent higher than the average of $81,124 in FY 2015. Out of the 7,345 personal injury settlements, there were 113 personal injury claim payouts for $1 million or more in FY 2016, totaling $283.1 million. These 113 claims represent 46 percent of the total personal injury claim payouts for FY 2016.

by Claim Type

B. PROPERTY DAMAGE CLAIMS

Property damage claims consist of damage or loss to personal property as a result of the City's alleged negligence, including, but not limited to, motor vehicle accidents, roadways, water main breaks, and sewer overflows. Property damage claims comprised just one percent of the City's total tort claim payouts in FY 2016. In FY 2016, 8,161 property damage claims were filed, a six percent decrease from the 8,664 claims filed in FY 2015. Property damage settlement and judgment payouts decreased by 32 percent in FY 2016 to $9.4 million from $13.8 million in FY 2015.

C. TORT CLAIM TRENDS BY CLAIM TYPE

In FY 2016, the five costliest personal injury claim categories in terms of settlements and judgments paid out were civil rights claims ($158.0 million), medical malpractice claims ($101.1 million), police action claims ($100.6 million), motor vehicle claims ($89.7 million), and sidewalk claims ($31.8 million). Together, in FY 2016, these resolved claims accounted for 78 percent of all personal injury settlements and judgments paid out.

Expenditures Paid (In Millions) for Personal Injury Claims
by Claim Type
FY 2016

1. Civil Rights Claims

Civil rights claims typically arise from alleged statutory or constitutional violations such as discrimination based on sex, race, religion, disability, sexual orientation, or age. Claims in this category also include alleged constitutional civil rights violations by law enforcement personnel litigated under 42 U.S.C § 1983 in federal court.

There were 2,272 civil rights claims filed in FY 2016, compared to 2,714 claims filed in FY 2015, a 16 percent drop in claims filed. However, in FY 2016 the cost of civil rights claims payouts increased to $158.0 million up from $94.3 million in FY 2015, a 67 percent increase. In FY 2016, 20 of the 113 personal injury tort cases that resolved for $1 million or more were for civil rights claim payouts, totaling $98.9 million.

2. Medical Malpractice Claims

Medical malpractice claims are derived from alleged improper diagnosis, treatment, or care and are typically filed against a NYC Health + Hospital (HH) facility. Settlement of medical malpractice claims accounted for 16 percent of the total $620.1 million paid out for personal injury claims resolved in FY 2016. The 230 medical malpractice claims resolved in FY 2016 cost the City $101.1 million in settlement and judgment payouts, compared to $144.7 million paid out for 245 medical malpractice claims settled in FY 2015. In FY 2016, 27 of the 113 personal injury tort claims resolved for $1 million or more were for medical malpractice claim payouts, totaling $55.1 million.

Since medical malpractice claims often take five to ten years to resolve because of their complexity, the number of claims filed is a better indicator of medical malpractice claims activity than the dollar amount paid out in any single year. In FY 2016, there were 621 medical malpractice claims filed, down one percent from the 627 medical malpractice claims filed in FY 2015. Medical malpractice claims appear to be stabilizing after reaching a high in FY 2008, however, it is anticipated that the City will continue to pay out costly settlements as a result of the high number of medical malpractice claims filed in years past.

3. Police Action Claims

Police action claims result from claims of improper police conduct, such as alleged false arrest or imprisonment, or excessive force under New York State law litigated in New York State courts. Police action claims were the most frequently filed personal injury claim and accounted for the third highest claim payout in FY 2016.

There were 4,473 new police action claims filed in FY 2016, down nine percent from FY 2015 when 4,926 police action claims were filed. The decline in police action claims filed for the second straight year reverses a prior trend of rising police action claims filed that peaked in FY 2014.

In FY 2016, the cost of settled police action claims was $100.6 million compared to $119.5 million in FY 2015, a 16 percent decrease in payouts.

In FY 2016, the Comptroller's Office settled the wrongful conviction claims of Roger Logan and Shabaka Shakur pre-litigation to avoid lengthy proceedings that are costly for the City, with uncertain risks. Roger Logan spent more than 16 years in prison. The late King's County District Attorney Kenneth Thompson joined Mr. Logan's motion to vacate the murder conviction, and BLA settled Mr. Logan's civil claim pre-litigation for $3.8 million. Shabaka Shakur spent more than 27 years in prison. The Court vacated his murder conviction, and BLA settled Mr. Shakur's claim pre-litigation for $3.6 million.

4. Motor Vehicle Claims

Personal injury motor vehicle claims involve alleged accidents with City-owned vehicles. There were 1,226 new personal injury motor vehicle claims filed in FY 2016, up six percent from FY 2015, when 1,162 claims were filed. Personal injury motor vehicle claims cost $89.7 million in FY 2016, a 33 percent increase, compared to $67.3 million in FY 2015. In FY 2016, 26 of the 113 personal injury tort claims resolved for $1 million or more were for motor vehicle claim payouts, totaling $48.4 million.

5. Sidewalk Claims

Sidewalk claims arise from alleged defects, such as cracked or uneven surfaces, on public sidewalks. This type of claim includes personal injuries for slip/trip and fall accidents resulting from such alleged defects, as well as incidents on snow and ice-covered sidewalks. Legislation enacted in 2003 has limited the City's liability for injuries caused by alleged sidewalk defects. New York City Administrative Code § 7-210 requires prior notice to the City of the defective condition and generally limits the City's liability to (1) sidewalks adjoining City-owned property, or (2) sidewalks that are in front of owner-occupied residential property having no more than three units. Sidewalk claims decreased to 2,378 claims in FY 2016 from 2,559 claims in FY 2015. The total cost of sidewalk claims in FY 2016 was $31.8 million, down from $39.6 million in FY 2015, or a 20 percent decrease.

D. TORT CLAIM TRENDS BY AGENCY

In FY 2016, the five agencies that experienced the highest number of total claims filed were the NYPD (7,562 claims), DOT (5,193 claims), DOC (4,321 claims), DSNY (2,163 claims), and DOE (1,428 claims). Of these five agencies, two experienced an increase during FY 2016—claims filed against DOC rose 25 percent and DOE had a minimal increase of less than one percent from FY 2015.<sup>8</sup>

Chart 11
Percentage of Tort Claims Filed by Agency
FY 2016

The five agencies with the highest settled tort claim costs in FY 2016 were the NYPD ($279.7 million), HH ($112.2 million), DOT ($67.7 million), DSNY ($40.3 million), and DOE ($33.6 million).

1. New York Police Department

Tort claims against the NYPD include, but are not limited to, allegations of excessive force, civil rights violations, and personal injury or property damage arising out of motor vehicle accidents involving police vehicles. In FY 2016, the number of claims filed against the NYPD decreased to 7,562 from 8,423 claims filed in FY 2015, which represents a 10 percent decrease.

Chart 12
Percentage and Number of NYPD Claims Filed by Claim Type
FY 2016

Claims against the NYPD that settled in FY 2016 cost the City $279.7 million, compared to $225.6 million in FY 2015, a 24 percent increase. In FY 2016, BLA settled pre-litigation the excessive force and wrongful death claim filed by the Estate of Eric Garner, who died while being arrested on Staten Island, for $5.9 million. In the past decade, the number of claims filed against the NYPD has increased each year, peaking in FY 2014. This upward trend in NYPD claims settlement and judgment payouts is expected to continue into the future despite a decrease in the number of claims filed in the last two years, as the final resolution of a claim can take many years. NYPD claims accounted for 44 percent of the total cost of FY 2016 personal injury and property damage claims settled.

Although the number of claims filed against the NYPD declined in FY 2016, the total NYPD settlement amount of $279.7 million is the highest in City history. This settlement total is the result of outdated policies, years in the making, and legal actions from more than a decade ago. Four groups of cases account for a substantial percentage of the $279.7 million figure. First, the wrongful conviction claims resulting from the 1995 “Soundview Murders”<sup>9</sup> settled for $40.0 million. (A sixth individual settled his wrongful conviction claim for $4.9 million in FY 2015.) Second, actions filed against the “Mafia Cops,” former NYPD Detectives Louis Eppolito and Steven Caracappa, for alleged connections to murders that happened in the 1980s and 1990s, settled for $13.5 million. (Note, too, that a related case involving these former Detectives settled for $5.0 million in FY 2015; further, Barry Gibbs, convicted of murdering a woman in Brooklyn and incarcerated for 19 years, sued former Detective Eppolito alleging wrongful conviction in a case that settled for $9.9 million in FY 2011.) Third, the City settled Alan Newton’s wrongful conviction claim<sup>10</sup> for $12.1 million. Finally, attorneys’ fees related to the “Stop and Frisk” litigation (Floyd v. City of New York) settled for $11.3 million. These four settlements accounted for $76.7 million, or 27 percent, of the $279.9 million NYPD FY 2016 payouts.

2. NYC Health + Hospitals

Claims against HH encompass claims for personal injuries including alleged medical malpractice, slip/trip and fall accidents on hospital property, and property damage sustained on hospital property. Unlike all other City agencies, whose tort claim costs are paid out of the Judgments and Claims account established annually in the City’s General Fund, HH assumes financial responsibility for medical malpractice liabilities, up to a “capped limit” set by the Office of Management and Budget. Because many medical malpractice claims are typically not resolved for five to ten years from the date of filing, the number of claims filed against HH in a given year is a better indicator of current hospital claim trends than the amount paid out in any one year.

In FY 2016, 885 claims were filed against HH; 583 claims, or 66 percent of HH claims, were for medical malpractice. HH claims constituted four percent of the total number of tort claims resolved in FY 2016, but accounted for the second highest tort expenditure at $112.2 million, or 18 percent, of the total amount paid for tort claims in FY 2016.

Notably, the number of medical malpractice claims filed against HH's acute care hospitals<sup>11</sup> increased by 31 claims to 559 claims in FY 2016 from 528 claims filed in FY 2015, or an increase of six percent.

3. Department of Correction

The FYs 2013-2014 Claims Report projected an increase in the number of DOC claims filed and cost for settlement and judgment payouts. Following the surge in DOC settlement and judgment costs to $27.1 million in FY 2015, from $11.1 million in FY 2014, FY 2016 saw a continuation of this upward trend with $31.3 million in settlement and judgment costs—a 182 percent increase between FY 2014 to FY 2016.

As the chart below shows, there has been a significant increase in claims filed against DOC since FY 2013. In FY 2016, DOC claims filed jumped by 25 percent to 4,321 claims from 3,462 claims in FY 2015.

E. TORT CLAIM TRENDS BY BOROUGH<sup>14</sup>

The Bronx had the most overall tort claims filed, with 7,546 claims, followed by Brooklyn (6,672 claims), Manhattan (5,044 claims), Queens (4,628 claims), and Staten Island (1,224 claims). Consistent with FY 2014 and FY 2015, the Bronx had the most personal injury claims filed (6,351 claims) and Queens had the most property damage claims filed (2,114 claims).

Table 2
Number of Claims Filed By Borough FY 2016

Borough	Personal Injury (PI) Claims	Property Damage (PD) Claims
Bronx	6,351	1,195
Brooklyn	4,726	1,946
Manhattan	3,568	1,476
Queens	2,514	2,114
Staten Island	608	616

The Bronx had the highest per capita filing of personal injury claims at 436 claims per 100,000 residents, as compared to Queens, which had the fewest at 107 claims. Staten Island had the greatest number of property damage claims filed per capita with 130 claims per 100,000 residents, while Brooklyn had the fewest with 74 claims.<sup>15</sup>

V. LAW (NON-TORT) CLAIMS

Although all claims are rooted in the law, the Comptroller’s Office characterizes non-tort claims as “law claims”—for operational and record-keeping purposes. Such claims and/or disputes arising from City contracts, equitable claims, refund claims, City employee salary disputes, claims involving DOE special education matters, sidewalk assessments, and cleanup costs levied on property owners who are in violation of the Mental Hygiene Law, as well as affirmative claims brought by the City against other parties.

A. OVERALL LAW CLAIM TRENDS

The overall number of law claims filed declined five percent to 5,840 in FY 2016 from 6,169 in FY 2015. This change reflects a plateau in the number of claims filed after the 65 percent increase in the number of claims filed from FY 2013 to FY 2015. There were 3,743 law claims filed in FY 2013 and 4,214 in FY 2014. The previous increase was due primarily to a 73 percent uptick in special education claims<sup>17</sup> filed in FY 2015 over FY 2014 and a 101 percent increase in special education claims in FY 2015 over FY 2013. This increase came after the City launched a new “fast track” process in June 2014 to address claims for costs and tuition payments from parents of students requiring special education services.

The total number of settlements and judgments for law claims declined 10 percent to 4,838 claims in FY 2016 from 5,349 claims in FY 2015. The total amount of settlements and judgments paid out for law claims increased three percent to $380.9 million in FY 2016 from $371.4 million in FY 2015.<sup>18</sup> Payouts of special education claims in FY 2016 represented 67 percent of all law claim payouts.

Contract claims accounted for the second largest payout of law claims in FY 2016 at $49.6 million, representing 13 percent of all law claims settlements and judgments. This is an 11 percent increase in the amount paid out for contract claims over the $44.8 million paid out in FY 2015.

Special Education Claims

Special education claims include two categories of claims: claims on behalf of parents for the reimbursement of special education services costs and tuition,<sup>19</sup> and claims for statutory attorneys' fees where an underlying claim for special education reimbursement has been successful.

Following the City's June 2014 launch of a new "fast track" process for addressing claims for costs and tuition payments from parents of students requiring special education services, the Comptroller's Office noted a sharp rise in the number of special education claims settled and paid out in FY 2015. The number of claims filed and paid out in FY 2016 continues to reflect this rise from pre-"fast track" levels.

In FY 2016 the number of special education claims filed decreased nine percent from FY 2015. In FY 2016 there were 4,091 special education claims filed, compared to 4,478 claims filed in FY 2015. However, the number of special education claims filed in FY 2016 more than doubled the 2,029 filed in FY 2013 (a 102 percent increase) and represent a 58 percent increase over the 2,582 claims filed in FY 2014.

The total number of special education claims settled in FY 2016 slightly decreased by seven percent to 3,770 from the 4,067 claims settled in FY 2015. However, these special education claim settlements still represent a 105 percent increase over the 1,841 claims settled in FY 2013 and 70 percent increase over the 2,223 claims settled in FY 2014.

Special Education Claims Filed and Settled
FYs 2013-2016

The amount of settlements paid out for special education claims in the past year has climbed slightly, despite a slight decrease in the number of claims settled. There was a three percent increase in settlements paid out on special education claims during FY 2016 ($256.3 million) as compared to FY 2015 ($249.9 million). However, the amount of settlement payouts in FY 2016 are 141 percent greater than those in FY 2013 and 96 percent greater than those in FY 2014.

Contract Delay Claims

Contract claims include those claims alleging that a contractor was damaged by delays caused by the actions or inactions of the City on construction projects. Delay claims—a subcategory of contract claims—typically arise on larger construction projects such as those involving bridges and wastewater treatment plants. The analyses of these claims require the expertise of numerous staff members within the Comptroller's Office, including professional engineers, auditors, and attorneys.

While only 10 delay claims settled in FY 2016, accounting for just 30 percent of the 33 contract claims settled, the settlement amount of for these 10 delay claims makes up more than 52 percent of the $49.6 million total settlements and judgments amount for contract claims in FY 2016.

In FY 2016, these 10 delay claims, with alleged damages totaling $88.2 million, were negotiated and settled for $26.0 million. This represents a savings of $62.2 million, or 70 percent, over the amount of damages claimed by contractors. The damages from delay claims settled in FY 2016 represents increased project costs attributable to agency-caused delays of up to 16 percent over the original contract prices.

Of the 10 delay claims settled in FY 2016, four of those claims arose out of contracts with DEP. These four claims alleged damages totaling $40.7 million, which the City was able to negotiate and settle for $19.2 million. This represents a savings of 53 percent over the claimed damages. Of these four DEP claims, three arose out of contracts for the upgrade of water pollution control plants (WPCP contracts). The settlement of the three WPCP contract delay claims account for 99 percent of the DEP delay claim settlements and 73 percent of all delay claims settlements in FY 2016. Settlement of WPCP contract delay claims accounted for 76 percent of all delay claims settlements in FY 2015. Delays in WPCP contracts continue to account for the largest portion of payouts for delay claim settlements and judgments.

Alternative Dispute Resolution Claims

Contracts between the City and vendors solicited after September 1990 have included an Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) provision designed to provide a speedy alternative to litigation. When a dispute arises, a contractor may attempt to resolve it directly with the agency involved. If no agreement is reached during that process, a claim can subsequently be filed with the Comptroller's Office. If the claim is denied, the contractor may appeal to the Contract Dispute Resolution Board.

In FY 2016, 60 dispute claims were negotiated and settled for a total of $6.0 million. The number of disputes settled increased 33 percent from 45 dispute claims in FY 2015, while the total settlement amount increased by 100 percent ($3.0 million) in FY 2016 from $3.0 million in FY 2015.

Refund Claims

Refund claims include claims by private individuals seeking refunds for alleged overpayments and unjust fines. In FY 2016, 26 refund claims were negotiated and settled for $14.2 million compared to 21 refund claims negotiated and settled for $699,468 in FY 2015. Included in FY 2016 refund claim payouts is a $14.0 million settlement of a class action involving the improper issuance of hundreds of thousands of parking violations and fines to commercial vehicles within the City over a four-year period.

Affirmative Claims

Affirmative claims are those brought by the City against individuals, companies, and corporations for torts, breaches of contract, and remedy for violations of civil codes. These claims include, among others, funds due to the City for housing or building code violations, actions arising from the sale of unlicensed cigarettes and other public nuisances, contract overpayments, and recoupment of Medicaid assistance payments.

In FY 2016, the Comptroller's Office approved settlement of 880 affirmative claims for a benefit to the City of $9.1 million, as compared to FY 2015, when 867 Affirmative claims were settled for $17.6 million. The FY 2016 settlements were $8.5 million or 48 percent lower than FY 2015 in part due to several multi-million dollar settlements of affirmative claims to the benefit of the City in FY 2015. In FY 2015, these settlements resulted in a combined recovery of $10.2 million, including a City recovery of $2.6 million arising from a breach of services contract, a $5.0 million recovery from a company that schemed to evade New York City taxes on cigarettes, and a $2.6 million recovery and a guarantee of 10 affordable housing units for low-income New Yorkers for the next 35 years from a property developer for its failure to adhere to land use restrictions meant to protect low income New Yorkers.

APPENDIX A

APPENDIX B

Legal Background

I. MUNICIPAL LIABILITY

The decision of the New York Court of Appeals in Bernadine v. New York City, issued in 1945, exposed the City for the first time to liability for torts committed by the City's officers, agents, and employees.<sup>20</sup>

In Bernadine, the Court held that “the civil divisions of the State are answerable equally with individuals and private corporations for wrongs of officers and employees—even if no separate statute sanctions that enlarged liability in a given instance.”<sup>21</sup> The Court, in effect, abolished the doctrine of sovereign immunity for municipalities, but did not provide municipalities any of the protections accorded to the State by the Court of Claims Act.<sup>22</sup> In particular, claimants seeking to recover from municipalities for their agents' negligent and wrongful acts are entitled to a jury trial.

Municipal liability is also governed by local law. Under their home rule authority, municipalities can limit liability to some extent through limitations on the right to sue. An example is New York City's prior notice law, enacted in 1979 in an effort to limit the City's liability in slip/trip and fall cases on City sidewalks and streets.

II. CLAIMS PROCESS

To commence an action against the City, a claimant typically must first notify the City by filing a Notice of Claim with the Comptroller's Office.<sup>23</sup> However, in the case of claims against the HH, claims must be filed directly with HH. In most instances, the notice of claim for personal injury or property damage must be filed within 90 days of an alleged injury or wrong.<sup>24</sup>

The City Charter grants the Comptroller the power to settle and adjust all claims in favor of or against the City.<sup>25</sup> The Comptroller has the power to investigate claims, evaluate liability and damages, and reach a settlement prior to litigation.<sup>26</sup> If the Comptroller denies liability or is unable to arrive at a settlement with a claimant, the claimant may commence suit. Actions regarding tort claims must generally be filed within a year and 90 days after the loss.<sup>27</sup> The Office of the Corporation Counsel, under the direction of the Corporation Counsel, defends the City in most actions (HH defends its medical malpractice actions). No litigation can be settled without the approval of the Comptroller.<sup>28</sup>

ENDNOTES

- <sup>1</sup> City Charter Chapter 5, § 93(i).
- <sup>2</sup> The Comptroller's Office records claims data in its Omnibus Automated Image Storage and Information System (OAISIS). This report is based on data available in OAISIS as of January 18, 2017 for tort claims and January 6, 2017 for law claims. Since OAISIS is a dynamic system that is updated constantly, data in this report does not reflect values for matters that have occurred but have not yet been reported in OAISIS.
- <sup>3</sup> New York City's tort claim costs are paid from the Judgments and Claims account established annually in the City's General Fund, except NYC Health + Hospitals assumes financial responsibility for its settlements.
- <sup>4</sup> NY Exec. Law § 632-a(1)(a), (b).
- <sup>5</sup> Actions filed against the "Mafia Cops," former NYPD Detectives Louis Eppolito and Steven Caracappa, for alleged connections to the murders that happened in the 1980s and 1990s, settled for $13.5 million. (A related case involving these former Detectives settled for $5.0 million in FY 2015; further, Barry Gibbs, convicted of murdering a woman in Brooklyn and incarcerated for 19 years, sued former Detective Eppolito alleging wrongful conviction in a case that settled for $9.9 million in FY 2011.)
- <sup>6</sup> For the purposes of the Claims Report, "filed" describes those claims in which a notice of claim was timely filed with the Comptroller's Office; "settled" means any claim or lawsuit that was resolved and resulted in the City paying out money to claimant.
- <sup>7</sup> See Appendix A for a description of claim types.
- <sup>8</sup> In FY 2016, DOE claims filed increased to 1,428 up from 1,407 claims filed in FY 2015.
- <sup>9</sup> Individuals convicted of the "Soundview Murders" that occurred on January 17-19, 1995, had their convictions vacated in 2012 and 2013, after two other individuals confessed to the murders.
- <sup>10</sup> Alan Newton, convicted of sexual assault, and exonerated by DNA evidence. Newton v. City of New York, 784 F.Supp.2d 470 (S.D.N.Y. 2011)(Judge Scheindlin set aside jury verdict of $18.0 million based on Section 1983 claims); 739 F.3d 140 (2d Cir. 2015)(Second Circuit vacated Judge Scheindlin's decision, reinstated jury verdict, and remanded the case for remittitur); 136 S.Ct. 795 (2016)(Supreme Court denied cert for City appeal of Second Circuit decision); 171 F.Supp.3d (S.D.N.Y. 2016)(Judge Scheindlin reduced jury award to $12.0 million).
- <sup>11</sup> HH operates 11 acute care hospitals.
- <sup>12</sup> In FY 2016, the remaining 24 medical malpractice claims filed were against NYC long-term care centers, correction facilities, family care centers, emergency medical services, or unidentified health care facilities.
- <sup>13</sup> In FY 2015, the remaining 100 medical malpractice claims filed were against NYC long-term care centers, correction facilities, family care centers, emergency medical services, or unidentified health care facilities.
- <sup>14</sup> Personal injury and property damage claims are analyzed by borough based on location of incident. Some notices of claim are filed without borough specific information or allege incidents that occurred outside the five boroughs. Law claims are not tracked by borough. Population statistics do not take into account commuters or tourists.
- <sup>15</sup> The United States Census Bureau estimated as of July 1, 2015 the total population for New York City was 8,550,405 residents. In order of population the boroughs are: Brooklyn (2,636,735 or 31 percent of the total population); Queens (2,339,150 or 27 percent of the total population); Manhattan (1,644,518 or 19 percent of the total population); Bronx (1,455,444 or 17 percent of the total population); and Staten Island (474,558 or six percent of the total population). Statistics do not take into account commuters and tourists.
- <sup>16</sup> Rounded to the nearest whole claim.
- <sup>17</sup> These numbers include both claims by parents for reimbursement of special education costs and tuition and claims for attorneys' fees where an underlying claim for special education reimbursement has been successful.
- <sup>18</sup> While the total number of law claims settlements and judgements include all resolved law claims, law claims settlements and judgment payment figures do not include claims wherein the City is to receive payment.
- <sup>19</sup> Claims for special education services costs and tuition reimbursement submitted by the DOE for settlement at the administrative level are for claims of $25,000 or more. Under a 1998 Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between the Comptroller's Office and the DOE, the DOE is authorized to make annual tuition payments up to $25,000 without Comptroller approval. The Comptroller may rescind this MOU at any time. Requests for settlement authority submitted by the Office of the Corporation Counsel for special education reimbursement claims that have proceeded to litigation are not subject to this MOU and are for claims in any amount.
- <sup>20</sup> Bernadine v. City of New York, 294 N.Y. 361, 365 (1945).

- <sup>24</sup> General Municipal Law, Article 4, § 50-e. One notable exception is a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, the Federal Civil Rights Act; a § 1983 action can be filed directly in court without filing a notice of claim if no state cause of action is asserted.
- <sup>25</sup> City Charter, Chapter 5, § 93(i).
- <sup>26</sup> BLA investigates claims filed against the City; obtains and evaluates accident reports and other documents provided by agencies; conducts field visits, interviews witnesses, and conducts hearings; evaluates liability and damages; and attempts to settle appropriate cases. The Comptroller's Office Bureau of Engineering investigates construction contract claims and negotiates claim settlements, together with BLA and, if litigation is pending, the Office of the Corporation Counsel.
- <sup>27</sup> General Municipal Law, Article 4, § 50-i. A significant exception to this requirement is in the area of medical malpractice, in particular, claims for injuries to newborn infants.
- <sup>28</sup> City Charter, Chapter 17, § 394(c).
- <sup>29</sup> The parties stipulated that damages would be limited to 12 years of incarceration.
