JOB DESCRIPTION

The New York City Comptroller's Office is responsible for oversight of the investment portfolios of the New York City Retirement Systems (Systems). This $150 billion portfolio is managed primarily by external investment managers, and is largely invested in publicly traded securities, with significant allocations to private equity, real assets, hedge funds, and opportunistic fixed income investments. The Senior Risk Officer will identify and implement systems to assess and monitor financial and enterprise risk, and will participate in the oversight of overall asset allocation recommendations. The Senior Risk Officer will devise and implement the enterprise risk management strategy, assist in the evaluation of relevant consultants and external investment managers, and ensure that risk management programs thoroughly meet the needs of the Systems and the Comptroller.

Reporting to the Comptroller and working with the Chief Investment Officer, responsibilities include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Direct the enterprise and financial risk management units;
- Devise and implement the enterprise risk management strategy;
- Participate in the review and recommendation of asset allocation and other investment policies to the Systems;
- Analyze portfolio risk using complex quantitative models and using risk models to review implications of investment decisions on total portfolio risk;
- Prepare reports and make presentations to senior management and the Systems regarding risk management issues;
- Review system-generated scenario analyses and stress tests for the portfolio;
- Recommend new and innovative risk management strategies, including identifying effective risk management technology;
- Oversee the integrity of IT systems;
- Advise on issues of reputational risk;
- Work with internal audit and chief compliance officer to assess effectiveness of risk management systems, and

- Perform related assignments or special projects as may be required.
