Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of
NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation, a component unit of The City of New York, which comprise the statements of net position as of June 30, 2016 and 2015, and the related statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net position, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation as of June 30, 2016 and 2015 and the changes in its financial position and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Matters

Management's Discussion and Analysis

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming opinions on the financial statements that collectively comprised the Corporation's basic financial statements. The accompanying management's discussion and analysis ("MD&A") is presented for purposes of additional analysis, to supplement financial reporting for placing the basic financial statements in an appropriate operational, economic, or historical context, and although is not a required part of the basic financial statements is required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. We have applied certain limited procedures to the MD&A, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in United States of America, which consisted of inquiries of management about the methods of preparing the information and comparing the information for consistency with management's responses to our inquiries, the basic financial statements, and other knowledge we obtained during our audit of the basic financial statements. We do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on the information because the limited procedures do not provide us with sufficient evidence to express an opinion or provide any assurance.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated September 19, 2016 on our consideration of NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation's internal control over financial reporting and our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and the compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Management's Discussion and Analysis

This section of the NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation ("NYCNCC") annual financial report presents our discussion and analysis of financial performance during the years ended June 30, 2016 and 2015. Please read it in conjunction with the financial statements and accompanying notes, which follow this section.

Background

NYCNCC, a component unit of The City of New York ("the City"), is a New York not-for-profit corporation that was established in July 2014. NYCNCC was formed for the purpose of serving as a qualified community development entity in federal new markets tax credit transactions. NYCNCC's mission is to serve and to provide investment capital to, low-income persons and low-income communities within the City, thereby assisting in executing the community and economic development and job creation objectives of the City.

Operating Activities

Until NYCNCC receives federal new markets tax credit allocation authority from the Community Development Financial Institutions Fund of the U.S. Department of the Treasury ("CDFI Fund"), NYCNCC's operations will primarily be limited to applying for such authority. CDFI Fund awards federal new markets tax credit allocation authority to successful applicants on an annual basis based upon a competitive and vigorous application process.

The following table summarizes NYCNCC's operating activities for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2016 and 2015 and the percentage changes between June 30, 2016 and 2015:

	2016	2015	% Change 2016-2015
Operating revenues	$ -	$ 125,000	(100)%
Operating expenses	2,500	50,102	(95)%
Operating Income	(2,500)	74,898	(103)%
Non-operating revenues	66	22	200%
Change in net position	$ (2,434)	$ 74,920	(103)%

In fiscal year 2016, operating revenues and expenses decreased significantly primarily due to the tentativeness of the application process within the CDFI Fund.

In fiscal year 2015, operating revenues consisted of a $125,000 contribution made by Build NYC Resource Corporation ("Build NYC"). Build NYC is a New York non-for-profit corporation and component unit of the City.

Operating expenses in fiscal year 2015 consisted of start-up-costs, comprised mostly of consulting fees paid to United Fund Advisors, LLC, a financial services company that provides consulting services to new markets tax credit transaction participants, for services related to applying to CDFI Fund for federal new markets tax credit allocation authority.

Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters
Based on an Audit of Financial Statements Performed in Accordance With Government
Auditing Standards

Independent Auditor's Report

Board of Directors of
NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation:

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the Standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the financial statements of NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation, a component unit of The City of New York, which comprise the statement of net position as of June 30, 2016 and the related statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net position, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated September 19, 2016.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether NYC Neighborhood Capital Corporation's financial statements are free of material misstatements, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statements amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with these provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the entity's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.
