LGBTQ+ GUIDE

SERVICES + RESOURCES

2023

Greetings!

I am honored to officially present the 2023 edition of the New York City LGBTQ+ Resource Guide—a citywide directory of organizations and services for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer and Gender Non-Conforming New Yorkers. From senior services, access to housing, the arts, and youth support, this guide serves as a reminder that New York City will continue to celebrate and support LGBTQ+ communities citywide.

Looking back at the past year, LGBTQ+ communities have made many gains, but the forces opposed to dignity and safety for queer communities are also gaining ground. With state legislatures across the country increasingly targeting trans youth, protests against Drag Story Hour, and the ongoing threat of discrimination, we have to be louder and stronger in our efforts to create inclusive and supportive communities.

Right here in New York City, students at Yeshiva University were barred from forming an LGBTQ+ student club on their campus. I believe that all youth should be given the freedom to express themselves without pressure or opposition from any educational institution. Which is why, as Comptroller of this great city, I wrote a letter of support for Yeshiva University's LGBTQ+ students and staff calling on the President of the institution to allow this club to exist on campus without any barriers.

My office also supported calls for LGBTQ+ inclusion in the Staten Island Saint Patrick's Parade because we refuse to accept discrimination of all forms. Our office will always work to uplift all New Yorkers and against using City resources for programs that discriminate.

We, as a nation and city, still have much to do to advance health and safety for LGBTQ+ communities. The city must continue its fight to lower HIV infection rates and provide access to mental health for all New Yorkers. According to a 2023 survey by The Trevor Project, about 81% of LGBTQ youth wanted access to mental health services, but of those, only 44% received services.

We will also advocate to ensure that pharmacies and community health centers have access to Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis (PrEP) and Post-Exposure Prophylaxis (PeP) throughout New York City. Numerous organizations within this guide provide exactly this sort of information, but it's only as good as the access that is provided at health-affiliated sites.

While we still have a lot of work to do to create a world that centers joy and invests in the dignity of all New Yorkers, the strength and breadth of the city's LGBTQ+ civic and cultural infrastructure gives me hope that we will one day realize that vision.

As we celebrate Pride this year, let us remain vigilant in our efforts to support the livelihoods of LGBTQ+ New Yorkers and expand resources for those in need of assistance. I pledge to remain committed to using my power as the New York City Comptroller to push for inclusive policies that do not leave anyone behind regardless of gender or sexual identity.

We hope you find this edition of the LGBTQ + guide to be a useful resource and that you share it with colleagues, friends, and neighbors who may be interested. If you have any questions about the 2023 edition or would like to request a print copy, please send an email to action@comptroller.nyc.gov. You can also browse the entire directory online at <https://comptroller.nyc.gov/lgbtq/>. Thank for your continued partnership.

In solidarity,

Brad Lander

New York City Comptroller

“The Comptroller’s LGBTQ+ Guide has been beneficial to both the Pride Center and our community, making it so much easier for our community members to access the assistance they need - and for our staff and volunteers to share this information. As an organization dedicated to serving the diverse needs of the LGBTQ+ community in Brooklyn, we often encounter individuals seeking specific resources or support systems. The guide has allowed us to quickly and accurately direct them to the appropriate organizations, agencies, and programs. This not only saves time but also ensures that individuals receive the assistance they require promptly.”

-Omari Scott, Director, Development & Communications for Brooklyn Pride Community Center

“The Comptroller’s LGBTQ+ Guide has been vital for our referral and outreach program to connect with other agencies on supporting our community, conducting outreach to other providers, and to building collaboration in response to our mission and the needs of the LGBTQ+ community at large.”

-Alex Roque, President and Director of Ali Forney Center

Help Obtaining Benefits

A number of programs provide support to New York City residents who may need assistance. Information about some of these programs is below and can also be obtained by calling 311. In addition, ACCESS NYC is an online screening tool that can help you determine the City, State, and Federal health and human service benefit programs for which you are potentially eligible. Please visit access.nyc.gov.

Reporting Discrimination

New York City's Human Rights Law is among the most expansive civil rights laws in the country, prohibiting discrimination in employment, housing, and public accommodations based on gender (including sexual harassment), gender identity, and sexual orientation.

If you experience discrimination in New York City, you have the option of either filing a claim in court or filing a claim with the Law Enforcement Bureau of the New York City Commission on Human Rights (Commission). To report discrimination to the Commission, call 311 or (718) 722-3131. You can also learn more about options available to you and the process of filing a claim at <http://www1.nyc.gov/site/cchr/help/i-need-help.page>.

Cash Assistance

Cash Assistance provides monetary assistance to eligible low-income families and individuals. To find a New York City Job Center where you can apply for Cash Assistance and other public benefits, call 311 or visit <http://www1.nyc.gov/site/hra/locations/job-locations.page>.

Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC)

Working families that earn below a certain income level may be able to receive the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC). The amount of the refund depends on the family's income and individuals' marital and parental status. To learn more about the EITC and how you can claim it, call 311 or visit www.nyc.gov/eitc.

Emergency Housing

To obtain assistance if you are homeless, call 311 or visit the following Department of Homeless Services intake centers:

- Families with children: Prevention Assistance and Temporary Housing (PATH) Center, 151 East 151st Street, Bronx, NY.
- Adult families: Adult Family Intake Center (AFIC), 400-430 East 30th Street, New York, NY.
- Single adult men: 30th Street Intake Center, 400-430 East 30th Street, New York, NY.
- Single adult women: HELP Women's Shelter, 116 Williams Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11217 or Franklin Shelter, 1122 Franklin Avenue, Bronx, NY.

Financial Empowerment Centers

Financial Empowerment Centers provide free services including money management and budgeting, financial planning, credit and debt counseling, and affordable banking services. For more information about financial empowerment assistance, contact the Department of Consumer Affairs Office of Financial Empowerment at 311 or visit <http://www1.nyc.gov/site/dca/partners/financial-empowerment.page>.

Housing Assistance

There are a number of affordable housing programs in New York City:

- Public housing is government-owned housing that is available to certain low-income individuals and families through the New York City Housing Authority (NYCHA). To obtain more information, call 311, visit <http://www1.nyc.gov/site/nycha/eligibility/apply.page>, or go to a NYCHA Walk-In Center located at either 478 East Fordham Road (1 Fordham Plaza), 2nd Floor, Bronx, NY or 787 Atlantic Avenue, 2nd Floor, Brooklyn, NY.
- Section 8 Housing Vouchers can be used by a family or individual to help pay the cost of renting a private home or apartment. Two government agencies administer Section 8 Programs: New York City Housing Authority (NYCHA) and New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD). Information can be obtained through NYCHA or through HPD at <http://www1.nyc.gov/site/hpd/section-8/about-section-8.page>.

- City-subsidized affordable housing programs offer apartments at below-market rent to individuals and families that meet certain income qualifications. These programs are administered by HPD. For more information, visit <http://www1.nyc.gov/site/hpd/renters/find-housing.page>.

Job Training

NYC Workforce1 Career Centers help people find and prepare for a job. The centers provide information about new jobs and refer people to educational and occupational skills training classes. For more information, contact the Centers by calling 311 or visiting <http://www1.nyc.gov/site/sbs/careers/contact.page>.

Medicaid

Medicaid is a program that helps with medical costs for people with limited income and resources. For additional information, please contact the Medicaid Helpline at (888) 692-6116.

Municipal ID: IDNYC

In 2014, the City of New York passed a law creating a municipal identification card called "IDNYC" for residents of New York City 14 years of age and older. The IDNYC card is photo identification that can be used for many purposes, such as accessing programs and services from City government, entering City government buildings and schools, identifying oneself to NYPD police officers, and opening checking accounts at certain financial institutions. To obtain an IDNYC card, you must complete an application form and submit it at an IDNYC Enrollment Center. To make an appointment, call 311 or go to www.nyc.gov/IDNYC.

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)

SNAP, also known as food stamps, are cash benefits in the form of coupons and Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) cards that help families with low incomes buy food. To apply for SNAP, call 311 or visit <http://www1.nyc.gov/site/hra/help/snap-benefits-food-program.page>.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI)

SSI is a cash benefit for very low-income elderly (65 and older), blind, or disabled individuals. A person can apply for SSI at any Social Security Administration (SSA) Office or by calling (800) 772-1213.

Unemployment Insurance

Unemployment insurance is temporary income for eligible workers who lose their jobs through no fault of their own and who are ready, willing, and able to work. To file a claim for unemployment insurance, call (888) 209-8124 or apply online at <http://www.labor.ny.gov/unemploymentassistance.shtm>.

Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) Program

The WIC program provides access to healthy food for certain pregnant women, mothers, and young children. To receive more information, including locations where you can apply for WIC benefits, call (800) 522-5006.

Workers' Compensation

Workers who get sick or hurt because of their job have the right to be compensated. Workers' Compensation benefits may include: (1) compensation for medical care and treatment of work-related injuries and illnesses; (2) cash benefits if the injury or illness prevents a worker from working; and (3) death benefits for the surviving spouse or dependent children of a worker who was killed on the job. For more information about Workers' Compensation, contact the Workers' Compensation Board at (877) 632-4996.

Advocacy

Leslie-Lohman Museum of Art

The Leslie-Lohman Museum of Art was created by our founders to preserve LGBTQIA+ identity and build community. Our roots trace back to 1969, when Charles Leslie and Fritz Lohman held an exhibit of gay artists for the first time in their SoHo loft. Throughout the 1970s, they continued to collect and exhibit gay artists while supporting the SoHo art community. During the height of the AIDS pandemic, the collection continued to grow as they rescued the work of dying artists from families who, out of shame or ignorance, wanted to destroy it. This led to the formation of the Leslie-Lohman Gay Art Foundation in 1987. In recognition of its importance in the collection and preservation of LGBTQIA+ history, the organization was accredited as a museum in 2016. Through exhibitions, public programs, publications, and its collections and library, the Museum examines the interrelationship of art and social justice in ways that provoke thought and dialogue.

Advent Lutheran Church

Our mission is to welcome all people to experience God's love - all ages, genders, cultures, colors, sexual orientations, abilities - especially anyone who has ever not been accepted for who they are at church.

For us the heart of the Gospel is this: God loves you for exactly who are and who you are becoming, and nothing you or anyone else can do or say will ever change that. Nothing on heaven or earth can separate you from God's love. God is calling you to love and be loved in community, and we would be proud to have you be part of ours. This has always been true; we just get to share the news and live in response to it.

We experience God's love in worship, relationships, scripture, community, serving, and many other ways - but the mission is always the same. Inversely, our mission is also to empower people to live out God's love with their words and actions so that others might experience God's love too

Judson Memorial Church

A Place for Spiritual Curiosity: Judson approaches faith, not as a monolithic or unchanging set of beliefs, but rather as a continual process of action, revelation and exploration. Asking difficult and inconvenient questions of our beliefs and spiritual traditions, and the person of Jesus, is in and of itself a core tenet of faith at Judson.

Body and Soul: We concern ourselves with more than the soul; the body is of equal concern. Whether it is bodily autonomy, racial liberation, freedom of sexual or gender expression, or accessibility-- the physical presence of every person in and beyond our community and their ability to enter, move through, and occupy the spaces we create are of paramount importance.

New York State Division of Human Rights

New York has the proud distinction of being the first state in the nation to enact a Human Rights Law, which affords every citizen - an equal opportunity to enjoy a full and productive life. This law prohibits discrimination in employment, housing, credit, places of public accommodations, and non-sectarian educational institutions, based on age, race, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, marital status, disability, military status, and other specified classes. The New York State Division of Human Rights was created to enforce this important law. The mission of the agency is to ensure that " every individual . . . has an equal opportunity to participate fully in the economic, cultural and intellectual life of the State." It does so in many ways, including the following: Through the vigorous prosecution of unlawful discriminatory practices; Through the receipt, investigation, and resolution of complaints of discrimination; Through the creation of studies, programs, and campaigns designed to, among other things, inform and educate the public on the effects of discrimination and the rights and obligations under the law; and Through the development of human rights policies and proposed legislation for the State.
